For Communication...

The English curriculum in our school introduces the formal studying of the language basically in its British standard forms as well as in its several varieties in use all over the world today.

The focus is essentially on English as the global and international language of our contemporary times

For Studying and Learning....

The studying of English is improved and diversified through our “CLIL CLASS NOW” Project, where the target language is used as a “vehicle” for a wider range of disciplinary content including Science, Technology, Geography, History and Art helping our students to develop further and well advanced learning skills

For the Pleasure of Reading....

The widening of our educational offer includes the “ETL: ENGLISH THROUGH LITERATURE” Project, where our students are involved in class reading workshops based on classics of English literature to enhance language creative skills as well as to infuse the pleasure of reading according to parallel projects such as “Libriamoci”, “Maggio dei libri” and “Io leggo perché”

For Discovering and Experiencing more...

The possibility to experience English in its different uses and purposes is also allowed by our “HELLO!” Project, a much appreciated project offering the chance to increase the ordinary 3 hours lesson per week with an additional 1 hour class entirely dedicated to interactional and conversational skills involving mother tongue specialists

For your FUTURE...

At the end of the third year (terza media) students are offered a special course appositely designed to prepare for passing “The Cambridge Certification Exam” (Level A2 and B1) which allows them to access to the International High Secondary School as well as to continue their vocational studying improving the level step by step
